Decisions! Decisions!
More each day,
and each one more important than the last.
Throughout your school days there has always been someone
to tell you what to do and when to do it.

Those days are rapidly drawing to a close. Soon
you will leave the security of high school to face life.

Some of you will go on to college while others will plunge directly into the business of earning a living. Whatever course is followed, one thing is certain: You will be on your own.

You will have to weigh the facts and make the final decisions. The choices will be left strictly up to you.

It is for this reason that KMHS, or any high school,
exists.
To arm you with the courage and wisdom
to do what is right for you.

Your four years in high school can be
as great an experience
as you let them be.

Underclassmen, you still have time left
with new doors yet to open.
For you seniors, this is a time of mixed emotions
as you reflect upon last year.

Elections were held.
Football games were played.
A winning season at last.
Taking tests
and eating lunch. Both were distasteful.

Attending classes was a necessary evil. The holidays were too short and too few.
The baseball field was finally completed. Band concerts were given.

But conciously or unconsciously
your attitudes are being shaped and developed. These attitudes will determine what you do with yourself.
What you will make out of living.

The time has come to cut
the apron strings.
Live your own life.
Do your own thing.

To help you prepare—that is all
that can be expected of high school.
To do your best—that is all
anyone can expect of you.

Mid-terms were taken and forgotten. Youthful bodies were contorted at dances. Seniors were accepted at colleges. Seems hard to believe the years have gone by so quickly.

Reviewed separately these events seem unrelated.
However, they are all part of the overall educational process. Sometimes learning is subtle. Sometimes it hits you in the face in the form of tests or papers due next period.

Bands Receive Superior Ratings

After several months of endless rehearsals, both Senior and Freshman Bands came away with superior ratings at the 1969 band contests. As soon as the contests were over, work began for the spring concert, a popular annual event.

Like the punchbowl, Junior-Senior is soon gone but is long remembered.

The little Munchkins relax.

A romantic evening.

As the sounds of "We're number 1!"
Die out, and the excitement of another school year subsides,
we are faced with a time of reflection.

The ballgames are just memories,
some fond, some bitter.
Athletics have their effect on both participants and spectators. Its not whether you win or lose, its how you play the game.
Says who!

The year seems to have flown by—at least that's the way it seems now.
At the time we couldn't wait for the bell to ring ending another endless period.

There are times we wish
we could change
and times we would never change.
Some of the things we did seem immature and foolish, but the very fact that we can recognize them as such indicates that we are growing up.

Hi Wanda,
I would say you are sweet
but you're not you're sour. Best of luck with Marion what's his name. Just have lots of fun and do your best.
BENNIE

Many warm and close friendships were formed during the years. These are to be cherished and cultivated even as we go our varied and sometimes widely separated ways in life.

M. P. Whitworth

Each person and event has some effect on you. Each opens some new door, but it is up to you whether or not you walk through these doors. A choice must be made and once again the choice is yours to make.

Teachers have left their indelible marks on you, good or bad. It is their responsibility to deluge you with vast amounts of information, often incomprehensible. You must sort out this information and decide what is applicable to you and your situation.

Not only is high school valuable as a source of information, it is essential in teaching this all-important sorting process.

M. R. Deal
St. Kittworth

*Jump

Occasionally the lines of communication between students and teachers break down and misconceptions occur. However, no system, no matter how well conceived or executed, is infallible and the high school is no exception.

If progress is to be made in the area of interpersonal relations—between students and teachers, groups of students, or individuals—it will be necessary to find some common ground from which to begin.

A give-and-take process must be used, with each side realizing that all its demands can not be met. Compromise is the answer. Acceptance of this fact is a sign of maturity.

Very Interesting

The four years of high school help form the foundation upon which the rest of your life must be built. The strength of this foundation is dependent upon several factors—other students, teachers, administration, facts and theories, and you. The most important of which is YOU.

Dedication

Because he unselfishly gives his time to the school and its students in serving them above and beyond the call of teaching duty; because he is a coach both on and off the court to all who know him; and because he is a friend—we dedicate this 1970 Milestones to Mr. Blaine Froneberger.

The editors would like to express their appreciation to Mrs. Carolyn McWhirter who has been a valuable guide in the development of this annual, to Mr. J.B. Edwards who has helped plan the annual and teach the editors what to do, to all the members of the staff who have worked so hard in selling ads and concessions, to Mr. Alexander who left class so often to take "just one more picture," to Lynn and Laura who kept on typing when they couldn't type no more, and to you, the student, because without you the annual would not be possible.

Wanda,

Well the year is almost gone and we've been seperated. No more arguing with Teresa (Ha) + talking to all of you. Pickles was so fun + silly too! I know I will always remember you + the rest of our gang. It's really been fun hasn't it. I hope I don't get upset when I leave cause I'll miss you all so much. Really it's sad for me, here all this time I've waited for the end of school + now I don't want to go. You all have put up with my silliness + been so nice to me. It was great making Teresa mad, wow! I loved that. I'll be sure to write you + you do the same - OK? I wish you all the luck + happiness + hope you + Marion will settle down, marry + have a bunch of kids (Ha. 'Ha.'). I hope I see you soon.
